

Workers of the Week

18th April 2022

3B

WOW – Mila is our wow as she puts 100% effort in all of her learning and takes ownership to achieve her best. Well done!

Star Writer – Elird is our star writer as he used excellent vocabulary to form expanded noun phrases about the circus in Leon and the place between. Keep up the fantastic work!

3C

WOW – Dougie Rogers - for showing compassion towards his peers, a real sense of maturity and always showing me that he is ready to listen and learn. He completes his work to a great standard and is a role model to others. Keep it up Dougie! ☺

Star writer – Lilly Barrs - for writing a fantastic first person narrative on using her senses to describe what the circus is like. She used adverbs, alliteration and an expanded noun phrase. Well done Lilly, keep up the good work! ☺

3M

WOW – Peter Clark for a superb effort with his presentation and attention in class. Well done

Star Writer – Lilah Rose Windell for earning her pen licence this week. Great job.

4BT

WOW - Jack C - Jack is this week's 'Worker of the Week' for great contributions to class discussions and engagement with his work. Jack has been interested in learning about the Ancient Egyptians and answered questions confidently during our comprehension lesson this week. Keep up the hard work Jack!

Star Writer - Chase B - Chase is this week's Star Writer for writing dialogue between two characters. Chase made sure to include interesting synonyms for 'said', a variety of punctuation and produced his work neatly. Well done Chase!

4W

WOW - Daya B - for going above and beyond in every subject. Daya shows enthusiasm, creativity and perseverance in all she does. Keep up the super work!

Star Writer - George Mid - for his excellent dialogue between Dad and Dennis from our class book 'The Boy in the Dress'. George made sure each new speaker was on a new line and punctuated perfectly. He also used a variety of synonyms for 'said'. Well done!

4WH

WOW - Emily P - for working super hard and being focused in all lessons. Emily has contributed well in class discussions this week. Keep up the brilliant work Emily :)

Star Writer - Willow O - for writing excellent dialogue between Dad and Dennis from our class book 'The Boy in the Dress'. Willow included inverted commas, a new line for a new speaker, brilliant adverbs and alternative words for said. Great work Willow, keep it up :)

5B

WOW - Dylan M - Well done Dylan for working extremely hard this week, you showed a great level of independence and perseverance in your work, whilst also helping those around you. Keep up the great work! :)

Star Writer - Zayn J.M - Well done for using relative pronouns effectively to create interesting sentences when writing in Mr. Balding point of view as an eye witness. Keep up the fantastic work! :)

Workers of the Week

18th April 2022

5G

WOW – Mariam J – for all the hard work and effort she has demonstrated at her time at Engane. Mariam is always full of enthusiasm and positivity. A worthy WOW winner.

Star Writer – George C – for a great improvement in his handwriting. George worked hard on his handwriting and this is showing.

5W

WOW – Joe O- For his knowledge of South American countries. Well done Joe!

Star Writer – Dylan R- For his sentences about a character from our class book; Thief. Dylan included subordinate clauses and good descriptions. Well done Dylan.

6A

WOW – Charlotte H for working hard in class and in her reading group with Mrs Herret. You are a great role model to your peers. Keep it up!

Star Writer – Ethan S for effectively creating suspense in his recent narrative, paying particular attention to the build-up. Well done!

6N

WOW- Logan M – for working hard all week on tasks and showing a great attitude and effort.

Star Writer – Florence L – for creating an exciting short narrative using suspense to entertain the reader.

6P

WOW: Albert B. He works extremely hard at home to enhance his learning. I have been very impressed by the good quality homework and reading challenge tasks he always completes. Well done, Albert.

Star Writer: Leo. T For accurately using the features of a dairy to show the thoughts and feelings of Macbeth. His work was interesting to read because he used better quality language and made his sentences cohesive.