WOW

Celine L is our worker of the week because she consistently follows school rules, is kind and is helpful. Celine tries her best with all classwork and homework. She recently made an amazing shape picture. Well done Celine, keep being a superstar!

STARWRITER

Joshua E is star writer this week because he is now writing correct sentences independently. His confidence has grown and he will now complete his writing, without waiting for an adult to support him. Well done Joshua, we told you, you could do it. Keep it up!

WOW

Kayden R you have the WOW award this week for showing good sportsmanship when practising for sports day. You are working hard at taking turns and cheering others on. Thank you for being so positive!

STARWRITER

Ela G you have the star writer award for writing a great sentence about our story 'What the ladybird heard'. You are now writing a whole sentence using the word 'and' to extend it further. You are very good at using the sounds you know and our tricky word mat to help. Well done Ela! 😊

WOW

Ralph V – for always being so engaged in his learning. He is always eager to share his ideas, complete his work and he loves to ask questions to further his knowledge and learning – well done, Ralph! 😊

STARWRITER

Zach E – for such a fantastic improvement in his independent writing. His spelling has improved, he is writing in full sentences that make sense and he can read it back to me. You have been working so hard Zach, keep it up! 😊

WOW

Hollie is our WOW for being such a fantastic designer and maker in our DT sessions. You looked closely at your design and use of colour plus detail to get your felt animal onto your Carnival T-Shirt. You needed no help with the cutting and all your creative ideas were your own!

STARWRITER

Elliot concentrated so well to write a very clear, neat and numbered set of instructions on how to make a Carnival T-Shirt. Not only is Elliot writing more on his own but he has improved so much in using capital letters and full stops in the right places! Keep it up!

WOW

Blake has the WOW award this week for showing sportsmanship when practising for sports day. Well done for trying hard at taking turns. It's great to be so positive!

STARWRITER

Darcy tried really hard to write a very clear, neat and numbered set of instructions explaining how to make our carnival t-shirts. She used some adverbials too. She thought carefully about the format and how to add diagrams. Well done.
