Description of task	Next week is 'Access Arts' week in school. We will be learning about the arts including marks, moves and images. We would like you to go outside and use a range of natural resources to create some art work. Take a picture and send it into school. We would love to see and share your creations.  		Our upcoming maths topic is going to be on money. Due to the invention of contactless card and lots of places now being cashless, children are less familiar with coins in today's society. This is however really important to teach them about the value of money. Please spend some time with your child, going through and looking at the different coins and talking about their value. Practice ordering them from smallest to largest in value. Talk about what this means and whether the largest coin in size means the largest value etc.
Outcome	This work will be helpful in class.		This work will be helpful in maths.
